

BIG JOHN DONOVAN NABS MAN FOR THEFT

Former Watchman at The Griswold
Arrested in Gloucester, Mass.

Patrick P. Foley, formerly a watchman at the Griswold, Eastern Point, was arrested Friday at Gloucester, Mass., on a warrant charging the larceny of a brooch, valued at $500 and the property of a guest at the hotel. Foley was located in Gloucester by Detective Donovan of the hotel force, who brought about his arrest.

Detective Donovan is on the Norwich force as a supernumerary and is now at the Griswold. The following morning Foley disappeared. Subsequently it was claimed that Foley had found the brooch. The matter was brought to the attention of Prosecuting Attorney Warren B. Burrows and a warrant was issued for Foley's arrest. This was turned over to the hotel detective Thursday when it became known that Foley had been seen in Gloucester.

Donovan telegraphed to Prosecuting Attorney Burrows Friday. Foley's approach caused him to claim that the accused man had agreed to return without extradition.

NORWICH FURNISHED CHAPLAIN.

The Late Rev. Daniel Mullin Served During the Early Years of the Civil War.

The Rev. William Rogers, pastor of St. Patrick's church, Hartford, contributes the following to the Catholic Transcript regarding the Catholic chaplains of New England during the Civil war: "Soon after the call for troops in the Civil war, Rev. William Quinn was appointed chaplain from the Cathedral, Providence, R. I., and served until Rev. Daniel Mullin of Norwich, Conn., was appointed to succeed him. Father Leo De Saracena, later of Winsted, was then chaplain, and served for three years. In all the reunions of the G. A. R. in Hartford from the close of the war until his death he marched on foot at the head of the column, as did also Father Boyle, of Pittsfield. These last two were at Gettysburg, but Father Quinn represented them in the act of blessing before the battle. Bishop McMahon was chaplain of the Irish regiment, 'Colonel' Cass, and served three years, mostly in Sheridan's marches. He was selected out of twenty volunteers as the ablest and best to endure such a long period of the battlefield and when he returned he fell exhausted at the door of Archbishop Williams' residence. At one time while on Sheridan's ride to check Stonewall Jackson's efforts in the Shenandoah valley he found himself on foot in Jackson's army and never knew how he got home. However, as he had faculties for both armies it did not interfere with his duties and he went on as chaplain in the southern camp until Sheridan sent for him and got him back to investigate the faith of his cavalry.

MAY SECURE STEREOTYPION.

Norwich Engineers' Association Thinks of Having Lantern Equipment.

The Norwich Stationary Engineers' association, meeting in regular session Friday evening in the Bill block, President George P. Thomas in the chair, voted to change its meeting nights during the holiday season to every other Friday night, instead of weekly. In accordance with this schedule, the engineers will hold their next meeting on Friday, August 1.

In order to take advantage of an opportunity which is offered by the national educational committee of the Stationary Engineers, the Norwich association is considering the purchase of a stereopticon for use at its meetings this winter. The national educational committee offers to the associations of the country, free of charge, slides and printed matter for lectures, and in this way at a nominal expense the engineers are enabled to keep up with the latest advances in their field. Where tried, this plan has proved a great success, and the idea is getting strong support from the local engineers. The educational committee of the Norwich association is Harry M. Leonard, James Hannigan and Peter Steffensen.

ORDERED TO PORTSMOUTH.

Lieut. Cassidy Assigned to Shore Duty After August 9.

Lieut. Richard E. Cassidy, who is now at the home of his parents here, with his family, received orders on Thursday from the navy department to report August 9 for duty at the navy yard, Portsmouth, N. H.

This means shore duty and much heavier home than has been his previous assignment at Bremerton navy yard in Puget sound. Lieut. Cassidy will remain here until his furlough expires.

Blew Breakwater Co.'s Safe.

Burglars entered the office of the Breakwater Construction company at Cow Point near the Chesapeake Naval station Tuesday night and blew open the safe, but little money was obtained. The burglars evidently were aware of the fact that Wednesday was pay day at the plant and they expected to find a large sum of money in the safe, but the payroll had not been brought from the bank to the office. Entrance was gained by cutting a window in the office and the burglars attacked the safe with nitro-glycerine or dynamite.

Suit on $1,500 Claim.

Suit was brought in the superior court by the Narragansett Brewing Co. against Lawrence Brothers of Norwich to collect a claim of $1,500, alleging that the debt was incurred July 16 of this year. The papers in the case were filed on Friday with the clerk of the court.
